About Our Guest Speaker
Linda Carol Gray left a life-time career in public schools to more seriously study the lettering arts and illustration. She began her business, Linda Carol Arts, a full-service calligraphy design and art studio. Linda studies annually with world’s best known artists through her participation with the International Association of Master Penmen Engrossers and Teachers of Writing by traveling all over the country annually and also serves on their Executive Board. Linda also participates actively with the Philadelphia Calligraphers’ Society and gives basic calligraphy classes locally. In addition, she is a member of the Society of Scribes, New York, the Doylestown Art League, is chairing the Audubon Art of the Barn Tour, is a ministry leader at her church and has been active in the Doylestown business community. Linda Carol Arts is a full time working studio and visitors are welcome daily by appointment.

For the June meeting Linda Carol will present an overview of written communication over the centuries with an emphasis on how writing systems developed in the US after the Civil War; how The Industrial Revolution brought on the era of "the Golden Age of Calligraphy," how it was used and the importance of written communication in the developing world of business; who the Master Penmen were; and how it all changed with the typewriter and use of the ballpoint pen and the computer. She will also discuss today's technology and the impact it's having on our youth today and public education, how we use hand calligraphy today, and who the living masters are and how they use their craft as a fine art form.

Thanks to Chuck Tarr for organizing dinner. Chuck would appreciate a volunteer or two to help with clean-up after dinner.

MENU

2016 Annual PSC Workshop Show:

Reception: Sunday June 26, 2016, 2 – 4 PM at PSC

The workshops facilitated by Betty McDonald, Vince Docktor, Robert Bohne and Jacqueline Barnett are having their annual Workshop Exhibition in the upstairs gallery from June 17th to July 8th. We are anticipating many workshop members will submit their drawings, paintings, pastels and watercolors for this show. There will be no charge for submissions and everyone who submits work is guaranteed that at least two pieces (if not more) will be shown in the exhibition.

The workshops provide a wonderful opportunity to draw from an unclothed or clothed model, to experiment with a variety of media, to work in a welcoming and non-threatening atmosphere, at their own level and pace. Viewing other artists/ works encourages growth and knowledge about techniques and styles. There is a whole spectrum of possibilities within each workshop, from a study in basic anatomy, color, form and composition to unique interpretations of the figure and the print. In the print workshop, led by Betty McDonald, in the basement Tuesdays from 10 to 2 many techniques from wood cutting, drypoint etching and monotype are explored.

Anyone wishing more information about the workshops or the exhibition may contact mailto:jbarnett12@verizon.net. Please include the Workshop Exhibition in the subject area.

Scam Alert!

Geynn Walder Di Pilla sent this to info@sketchclub.org.

I wanted to warn other artists about a scam that someone tried on me. I was contacted over a month ago by a lady who said she wanted to know if two pieces on my website were still for sale. I replied that they were and asked if she wanted to know anything else about them. She said she wanted to review the exact size, medium, and inspiration for them. About a week later, she said that she would like to proceed with purchasing them. She said that she was traveling, but would tell her husband to send me a check. In about another week, I received another email from her saying the check was in the mail and would arrive that day - she provided tracking information. I did get it. The check was for $4,250, but it was supposed to be for $2,500. I contacted her again and told her of the mistake. She said that she hadn't been clear enough with her husband and his assistant had made a mistake. She instructed me to deposit it and return the difference when I mailed the artwork out.

I went to the bank right away to deposit it. I asked the teller how long it would take to clear. She replied a day to a few days and then began to look at the check carefully. She ran it through the system, which indicated there was a high probability that it would not clear. She said that if I did try to deposit it and it didn't clear that not only would I be charged a fee, but this person could get access to my banking information. Rather than deposit it, I sent an email to the woman hoping it was still just a mistake. She never replied. I took all the evidence to the police station the other day.

Academy House Exhibition Opportunity

The Academy House art committee is now looking for pieces to display in our lobby starting sometime in April.

If any of your artists at the Philadelphia Sketch Club are interested, ask them to stop into the lobby (which now can be accessed only through 251 S. 15th Street) and look at the spaces currently being used. (The two pieces on the lobby level are smaller than we would prefer; the piece on the landing is an appropriate size.) If they think they have work that would be suitable for us, ask them to send photos and dimensions and we will take them up for consideration. Pieces displayed can be for sale, though the condo asks 20% of the selling price.

Photos can be emailed to this address or dropped off at the front desk with my name on the envelope.

Thanks,
