Biography
Lorraine Glessner’s paintings are composed of multiple layers of images, the paintings resolving into subtly flickering worlds of extremely seductive richness. Some of them resemble images seen through a microscope; others hint at the world seen from far above. - Andrea Kirsh, Philadelphia Introductions

Lorraine Glessner’s love of surface, pattern, mark making, image and landscape has led her to combine disparate materials and processes such as silk, wood, wax, pyrography, rust, paper and more in her work. Lorraine is a former Assistant Professor at Tyler School of Art, Temple University, artist mentor, workshop instructor and an award-winning artist. She holds an MFA from Tyler School of Art, Temple University, a BS from Philadelphia University, and an AAS in Computer Graphics from Moore College of Art & Design. She has a diverse art background with skills that include painting, sculpture, graphic design, interior design, textile design, photography, digital imaging and much more. Among her most recent professional achievements is a Second-Place award in Sculpture from Art of the State at the State Museum in Harrisburg, PA, a recently completed artist residency at Jentel Foundation and an acquisition by Kelsey-Seybold Cancer Center in Houston, Texas. Lorraine’s work is included in the recently released Encaustic Art in the 21st Century by Ashley Rooney and Nuance, a curated book by artist, Michelle Stuart. Lorraine frequently lectures and participates on academic panels at various Conferences including The International Encaustic Conference, SECAC and The College Art Association Annual Conference. Her work is exhibited locally and nationally in galleries, museums, craft centers, schools, libraries, universities, and more. Like her work, Lorraine brings to her teaching a strong interdisciplinary approach, mixed with a balance of concept, process, history, experimentation, problem solving and discovery.

PSC Member Mary Waltham has a solo exhibition in her native England from Sept 10–Nov 17th at the Gilbert White House and Gardens in Selborne, Hampshire (https://gilbertwhiteshouse.org.uk/exhibition-pond/?event_date=2019-09-10).

Pond: Mere, Rune and Flint is a direct response to the quiet beauty and mystery of the ancient ponds in Hampshire. It includes paintings, drawings and photographs documenting a site-specific installation.

Ponds are a common feature of the landscape, and in early human settlements they were a shared water resource for humans and animals. On areas of common land used for grazing livestock, ponds were essential. Ponds are not connected to each other or to other water bodies; they are only fed by rainwater or groundwater.

The rich and complex ecosystem that relies on each small pond became especially threatened during the summer of 2018 when there was a drought in Southern England.

One Saxon era pond – Wood Pond on Selborne Common, Hampshire, England - virtually dried up. In exploring what Saxon farmers in Selborne might have done in response to drought, Mary asks what action do we in the twenty-first century have in our power to do in the face of drought, flood and our changing climate?
